Why Chalky Finish Furniture Paint?

The beauty of this paint is that it can be used directly onto most surfaces – you don't need to prime, sand or prepare it in any way.

Prepare it

Simply wipe down your furniture and dry it thoroughly, before applying a coat of the paint on top of existing paint or varnish. If your furniture has any tough stains such as nicotine, water marks, smoke, ink, rust and felt tip pen, we strongly recommend applying a coat of Block It, to prevent any staining from seeping through to the finished coating.

Apply it

Ensure the paint is stirred well. Wipe down the surface to be painted to remove dust and dirt. Apply by brush using even strokes. If you want a solid finish, you will probably need 2 or 3 coats, but for a finish that you want to distress and sand back you will need fewer.

Tip: If you find the paint too thick, you can add water to gain the desired consistency – a thicker paint will give a more textured finish, whilst the thinner the paint, the smoother the end result. It's up to you!

If you want to achieve a distressed finish on your piece of furniture, apply 2 coats of the base colour, and one coat of the top colour. Once the paint has dried, use a fine grade sandpaper (Wet & Dry sandpaper works exceptionally well) and lightly sand down on the areas that you want to see the base colour. Ensure you take a step back every now and then to check that you are getting the best possible finish. If you find that you remove too much paint and aren't happy with the finish, simply pop another coat of the top coat over the affected areas, leave to dry, and then sand again until the desired finish is achieved.

Once you are happy with the finish, apply a generous coating of the wax over the paint. Leave this to dry for 10 minutes and then buff to a light sheen with a soft, lint free cloth.

Cover it

Coverage is approximately 10.5m² per 750ml pack per coat, dependent on the kind of surface being painted. Should be used as a guide only.

Clean it

Brushes can be easily cleaned with water.

Store it

Store in a cool, dry place away from children. Unopened, the product will have a shelf life of at least 12 months.
